

NFPA[®] Training Digital Badge FAQs

How do I earn an NFPA digital badge?

You can earn a digital badge from NFPA by registering for an eligible online training course, successfully completing all of the required components, and passing an assessment.

What is the difference between the three levels of digital badges offered by NFPA Training?

Bronze Badge

The Bronze Badge (Awareness) confirms you have successfully completed a learning event and passed an assessment by exhibiting a fundamental understanding of facts and ideas in a chosen subject area.

Silver Badge

The Silver Badge (Knowledge) confirms you have successfully completed a learning event and passed an assessment by applying acquired knowledge, facts, techniques, and rules.

Gold Badge

The Gold Badge (Analysis) confirms you have successfully completed a learning event and passed an assessment by analyzing content and presenting opinions or making judgments about the information based on a set of criteria.

How do I access my digital badge?

You will be able to see your badge and print your certificate in the NFPA Training Portal. If you wish to use any digital badge functionality, such as sharing your badge, or making it publicly verifiable by others, then you will need to create an account on Badgr.com. You will receive an email from Badgr.com 24 to 48 hours after you earn your badge with a link to create an account.

Do I have to create an account on Badgr.com?

No, creating an account on Badgr.com is optional. The email you will receive from Badgr will also give you the option to download an image of your badge without creating an account. If you choose to download the badge and not create an account, your badge will have no functionality and cannot be shared or verified by others.

What if I already have an account with Badgr.com?

If you already have an account with Badgr.com that is tied to the same email you use to log into nfpa.org, then you will not receive an email from Badgr.com. You can log into your account 24 to 48 hours after earning your NFPA badge and should see the badge in your backpack.
